

Vocabulary Quiz

Name Vocabulary Guy

Match the vocabulary scholar and the concept(s) or area of expertise they are best known for.

1. Paul Nation 10 model of L2 vocabulary acquisition: lexemes and lemmas
2. Paul Meara 18 multi-word units
3. Rob Waring 3 crossassociation, receptive/productive knowledge of vocabulary, extensive reading, Japan
4. Norbert Schmitt 19 grandfather of British corpus linguistics
5. John Read 11 vocabulary and discourse, Vocabulary in Use textbooks
6. Jan Hulstijn 6 glossing when reading, Keyword Method, incidental vs. intentional learning Need/search/evaluation,
7. Batia Laufer 12 vocabulary and stylistics, Cambridge Grammar of English
8. Averil Coxhead 1 vocabulary pedagogy, many, many studies, NZ
9. William Nagy 15 around 10,000 word families are necessary for advanced use of vocabulary, e.g. university study
10. Nan Jiang 5 vocabulary testing, Word Associates Test
11. Michael McCarthy 16 formulaic sequences
12. Ronald Carter 8 Academic Word List
13. Robin Goulden (Goulden, Nation, & Read) 14 frequency effects in language learning, implicit vs. explicit learning, psycholinguistics research on vocabulary
14. Nick Ellis 2 associations, acquisition, now computer modelling of vocabulary acquisition and attrition
15. J Hazenberg (Hazenberg & Hulstijn) 17 developed and analysed the Brown corpus
16. Alison Wray 7 synforms, 95% vocabulary coverage necessary for reading comprehension, need/search/evaluation
17. H. Kucera / W. Francis 13 native educated lexicon is around 20,000 word families
18. Rosamund Moon 4 vocabulary acquisition, Vocabulary Levels Test, vocabulary learning strategies, formulaic sequences
19. John Sinclair 20 early work on crossassociation (not Paul Nation!)
20. Masanori Higa 9 L1 reading, incidental vocabulary learning, Seattle